Do you or your customers have a disability?

We can help.

With over 35 years of experience, we really understand how disabilities can impact on people and their families.

We offer Work First Scotland, a voluntary Scottish Government supported programme for people with disabilities to help them get a job they will enjoy and want to keep. And we even help people when they find a job with in-work support, regular contact and mentoring.

If you or your customers have a disability please get in touch.

“Shaw Trust has helped me to help myself and put me on the right track.”

How it works

1. Get in touch

If you or your customers would like to get help, contact us.

2. First contact

We'll explain what support we offer and arrange a face-to-face meeting.

4. Ongoing help

Not sure how to search for work? Need some interview practice? Job searching, personal development, training and help with health and wellbeing are just some of the things we can do for you.

3. Understanding needs and goals

Together we'll explore your / your customers' employment history and goals, skills, and health and wellbeing needs and come up with a plan to get you / them into work.

5. In-work support

Our support doesn't stop once you or your customers have found a job.

6. Keeping in touch

In case you have any questions or need a bit of extra help.

“I have dyslexia and I felt it was stopping me from doing well. I wanted to prove to others that I can do it. I'm so grateful that my Adviser has helped me get this far.”
